

Data Management Solutions

Industry Pioneers

The founders of Data Management Solutions (DMS) are professionals within the gas industry. Their experience developing several major pipeline systems provided the sound foundation on which to create a company to address the functional requirements not being fulfilled by available ETTRM Gas Systems on the market. For the past sixteen (16) years DMS has been successfully providing commercially supported ETTRM software solutions to a broad spectrum of industry participants in the North American Natural Gas markets.

The DMS team has experience in every facet of the gas industry including trading, scheduling, EDI nominations, imbalances, storage, volume allocations, gas processing, settlement, and internal, financial, and regulatory reporting. In addition, J. Frank Peña, the founder and CEO of DMS, has testified before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) proceedings as an expert witness on gas accounting and Purchase Gas Adjustment (PGA) issues. He has also co-chaired the Southern Gas Association.

Successful Partnerships

We view our clients as partners, and more importantly our clients consider us as their partner. This relationship allows us to become an integral part of their team, their business, and their success. When we choose to partner with a client we commit ourselves completely to their success. We come equipped knowing how the industry works, how their business works, and how to transfer the benefits of the GasPro system to their operations and to their staff in an organized and proven method.

It has been our experience that with each new client, we are able to meet 85 percent – 90 percent of their system requirements at the onset. Using our combined industry expertise we then work jointly with our clients to develop the most effective solution to meet the remaining requirements. This has resulted in our 100 percent successful Implementation Process.

Commitment to the Future

DMS' clients include some of the more prominent names in the industry including Producers, Government Agencies, Marketing, and Local Distribution companies. The diversity of our clients, representing every segment of the industry, allows us to continually evolve to meet the ever changing industry requirements.

Our commitment to our clients' success has been our primary objective since day one and continues to be so today. To that end, DMS has always and will continue to celebrate successful implementations and not successful sales.

For a list of references please contact us via email: gasproinfo@dms-houston.com or to schedule a live, interactive demonstration, please call us at (281) 516-9435.