ADAMS RESOURCES MARKETING, LTD. INSTALLING NEW GAS MARKETING PROCESS SOFTWARE

DMS proud to announce Adams Resources Marketing, Ltd.
as their newest client

Adams Resource Marketing (Adams) has chosen Data Management Solutions' (DMS) GasPro product to replace their current custom built gas management software. The strong customer focus of both companies provides the common ground on which to build their long term relationship. Adams chose DMS as their software partner, because of the confidence they have in the tremendous customer satisfaction reports, as well as in GasPro's proven software ability to facilitate the gas management process. As veteran users of gas management software, Adams knew what they wanted in a system and has found it in GasPro. Some feature highlights which convinced Adams to choose GasPro are the seamless nature of the GasPro software that allows the front office to capture and schedule deals, automatically capture the accounting information capture--reflecting changes in volumes and pricing real time, all while providing the middle office Sarbanes Oxley controls that they were seeking. Internet accessibility, the maturity of GasPro and its strong reporting capabilities were also factors in their decision.

After a brief three month implementation project done in partnership with DMS, Adams plans to go live with their new software in September.

Adams Resources Marketing Ltd., subsidiary of Adams Resources & Energy, Inc., is a Houston based wholesale purchaser, distributor and marketer of natural gas. Their operation focuses on the purchase of natural gas at the producer level, and they distribute approximately 400 million cubic feet of natural gas per day to customers located in market regions from the Gulf Coast through the Northeast. Supply is concentrated among approximately 60 independent producers with the primary production area being the Gulf Coast of Texas and the offshore Gulf of Mexico region. For more information about Adams Resources Marketing, visit their website at www.adamsresources.com. DMS is proud to announce Adams Resources Marketing as the latest addition to the growing DMS GasPro software satisfied family of users.
